Hotel & Gastro formation Switzerland reforms training with «time2learn»

Hotel & Gastro formation Switzerland is modernizing its apprentice programs for Certified Restaurant Specialists and Certified Restaurant Employees with the training planner time2learn from the Swiss Learning Hub Ltd.

Since August 2019, prospective restaurant professionals have been organizing their training via time2learn. Martin Schönbächler, Deputy Director/Rector of Hotel & Gastro formation Switzerland, draws a thoroughly positive conclusion: "With the training planner, we are able to offer our apprentices a modern, practice-oriented training experience. This is appreciated by both the young professionals as well as the companies they work in". The tradition-rich institution, which is committed to providing extensive further training opportunities in the Swiss hospitality industry, will continue to add further professions to the tailor-made digital solution and thus simplify training for its partner companies even more.

Digitised training begins with the online registration of apprentices and vocational trainers and continues with the online assignment and completion of practical assignments. The company offering the apprenticeship plans the entire training with time2learn. An evaluation system with stars makes learning success intuitively tangible. "The Hotel & Gastro formation Switzerland, as a future-oriented educational organisation, continues to drive the quality of Swiss hospitality forward. With the digital platform, all users benefit from a high-quality and modern educational offering", says Roland Gmür, Head Vocational Education Platforms of the Swiss Learning Hub AG. The tool, which enables not only practical assignments but also training certificates for occupational safety and includes the "time2learn Young Talents" app, gives all those involved access to all the information necessary for a companies offering apprenticeships. The training planner already covers more than 80 professions and is managed by the Swiss Learning Hub Ltd., a wholly owned CREALOGIX subsidiary.
